

Domain Model

Purpose:

The purpose of this model is to establish a glossary for high-level system components and define the relationship between these components. This information is likely to be useful when explaining the system to the client.

